

Mike Westmoreland
Director of Operations
Walt Disney Attractions Japan

Mike Westmoreland is currently the Director of Operations for Walt Disney Attractions Japan. In this role, Mike acts as liaison and partner with Oriental Land Company in the operation of Tokyo Disney Resort attractions, security, custodial, main entrance, guest relations, guest communications, transportation, and operations development.

Mike's diverse career with Disney started in Finance and Business Planning at the Disneyland Resort in 1991. He also worked in the Facilities, Engineering, and Construction division at Disneyland Resort before joining Theme Park Operations in 1996.

From there, Mike and his family moved to Florida where he led the attractions, food and beverage, merchandise, and custodial operations for the Living Seas and Imagination pavilions at Epcot. He then returned to California to be part of the final construction and opening of Disney California Adventure as the operations representative for program development, design, review, construction, and turnover of Paradise Pier.

Following the opening of Disney California Adventure, Mike joined the Hong Kong Disneyland project and spent 6 years on the operational design, construction, commissioning, and opening of the resort; including the training and development of the local operations team.

His final stop before moving to Japan was heading up worldwide operational safety where he worked with government agencies and industry partners to help develop, revise, and harmonize industry-related codes and ensure Disney Theme Parks and Resorts around the world met operational requirements through standards development and auditing.

Mike holds a BA in Business Administration from Whittier College and an MBA from University of La Verne.
