Data

- Employee surveys are important too
- Numbers are key, but only part of the recipe
- Survey results are directional – comments, conversations, and feedback are actionable
- Use qualitative data to reinforce what the quantitative is telling you
- Identify 3 – 5 credible qualitative data sources (internal and external), and monitor them regularly

Standards and Best Practices

- The best service standard is... YOU!
 - How do you measure up to expectations?
- Do you ask your employees to do anything you haven't or won't do yourself?
 - How often do you work along side your front line team members?
- Do you listen to and more importantly act upon what your employees and guests are telling you?

Keys to Success

- There's no substitute for being out in the field – “boots on the ground”
 - It's what you do and how you do it that makes the difference
- Balance book smart with street smarts – “Do your homework but trust your gut”
 - Act with purpose and forethought; don't react
- Make a commitment to make a difference

212

- At 211 degrees, water is hot.
- At 212 degrees, it boils.
- And with boiling water comes steam.
- And Steam can power a locomotive.
- And the one extra degree in business and life... separates the good from the great!
